OFFICE OF PETITIONS

In re Application of :
Lesch Jr. et al. :
Application No. 10/603,235 :
Filed: June 24, 2003 :
Attorney Docket No. NWK1581 :

ON PETITION

This is a decision on the renewed petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a), filed July 20, 2007, to revive the above-identified application.

The petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a) is DISMISSED.

Any request for reconsideration of this decision must be submitted within TWO (2) MONTHS from the mail date of this decision. The reconsideration request should include a cover letter entitled "Renewed Petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a)." ¹ Extensions of time under 37 CFR 1.136(a) are permitted. No additional fee is required for filing a "Renewed Petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a)."

On June 28, 2005, the Office mailed a Corrected Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due and Notice of Allowability, (hereinafter "Notice of Allowance") which set a three-month statutory period for reply. The Notice of Allowance indicated that applicant must pay a $700.00 issue fee by September 28, 2005, to avoid abandonment. In the absence of a timely filed reply, the application became abandoned on September 29, 2005. A Notice of Abandonment was mailed on May 26, 2006. On November 6, 2006, applicant filed a petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a), which was dismissed by the decision of May 21, 2007.

A grantable petition to revive an abandoned application under 37 CFR 1.137(a) must be accompanied by:

- (1) The reply required to the outstanding Office action or notice, unless previously filed.

¹ In the alternative, applicant may file a petition under 37 CFR 1.137(b) accompanied by the required petition fee.

(2) The petition fee as set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(l);

(3) A showing to the satisfaction of the Director that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(a) was unavoidable; and

(4) Any terminal disclaimer (and fee set forth in § 1.20(d)) required pursuant to § 1.137(d).

This renewed petition lacks item (3) above.

The Director may revive an abandoned application if the delay in responding to the relevant outstanding Office requirement is shown to the satisfaction of the Director to be "unavoidable". Decisions on reviving abandoned applications on the basis of "unavoidable" delay have adopted the reasonably prudent person standard in determining if the delay was unavoidable:

The word 'unavoidable' . . . is applicable to ordinary human affairs, and requires no more or greater care or diligence than is generally used and observed by prudent and careful men in relation to their most important business. It permits them in the exercise of this care to rely upon the ordinary and trustworthy agencies of mail and telegraph, worthy and reliable employees, and such other means and instrumentalities as are usually employed in such important business. If unexpectedly, or through the unforeseen fault or imperfection of these agencies and instrumentalities, there occurs a failure, it may properly be said to be unavoidable, all other conditions of promptness in its rectification being present.²

The showing of record is inadequate to establish unavoidable delay within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. § 133 and 37 CFR 1.137(a).³ Specifically, an application is "unavoidably" abandoned only where petitioner, or counsel for petitioner, takes all action necessary for a proper response to the outstanding Office action, but through the intervention of unforeseen circumstances, such as failure of mail, telegraph, facsimile, or the negligence of otherwise reliable employees, the response is not timely received in the Office.⁴

Supp. 550, 552, 138 USPQ 666, 167-68 (D.D.C. 1963), aff'd, 143 USPQ 172 (D.C. Cir. 1963); Ex parte Henrich, 1913 Dec. Comm'r Pat. 139, 141 (1913). In addition, decisions on revival are made on a "case-by-case basis, taking all the facts and circumstances into account." Smith v. Mossinghoff, 671 F.2d 533, 538, 213 USPQ 977, 982 (D.C. Cir. 1982). Finally, a petition cannot be granted where a petitioner has failed to meet his or her burden of establishing that the delay was "unavoidable." Haines v. Quigg, 673 F. Supp. 314, 316-17, 5 USPQ2d 1130, 1131-32 (N.D. Ind. 1987).

³ See MPEP 711(c)(III)(C)(2) for a discussion of the requirements for a showing of unavoidable delay.

⁴ Ex parte Pratt, 1887 Dec. Comm'r Pat. 31 (Comm'r Pat. 1887).

As to requirement (3):

Applicant asserted that the delay was unavoidable due to non-receipt of the Notice of Allowance mailed on June 28, 2005. Applicant stated that prior to the filing of the application, counsel relocated and updated the customer number to reflect the new address. Specifically, applicant asserted:

It is first noted that the original Utility Patent Application Transmittal sheet, filed 6/24/2003 via US Express Mail Label No. EU187567775US clearly indicated for the application correspondence address to be that associated with Customer Number 30245. The remaining question concerns when the address for that customer number was properly updated in 2003. Attorney shows by preponderance of the above evidence that the Customer Number address for 30245 was updated prior to the Notice of Allowance for the file at issue was mailed.

Renewed Petition, pp. 1-2.

A belated notification to the USPTO of a change of correspondence address does not constitute proper notification as to establish unavoidable delay. An applicant is responsible for promptly informing the Office of any change of address. Furthermore, where an application becomes abandoned as a consequence of a change of correspondence address an adequate showing of “unavoidable” delay requires a showing that applicant exercised due care to promptly notify the Office of the change of address and file a timely notification of the change of address in the application at hand.⁵ Furthermore, a delay resulting from the lack of knowledge or improper application of the patent statute, rules of practice or the MPEP does not constitute an “unavoidable” delay.⁶

As stated in the previous decision, the Office noted that the Notice of Allowance was returned to the Office with an indication on the envelope to “RETURN TO SENDER NOT DELIVERABLE AS ADDRESSES UNABLE TO FORWARD.” The Office further noted that the declaration and transmittal letter submitted on filing included the Customer Number 30245, as well as the typed correspondence address of 6721 Northridge Drive, Dallas, Texas 75214-3156. The decision reminded applicant that applicant bears the burden of establishing that a timely change of correspondence address was submitted with the Office. The Office informed applicant that a review of the USPTO records revealed that a change of the correspondence address was entered by the USPTO on June 14, 2006, after the mail date of the Notice of Allowance, and thus, it appeared that the Notice was mailed to the address of record, as it existed on June 28, 2005.

The decision of May 21, 2007, stated that applicant must provide documentary evidence, such as (1) a “Request for Customer Number Data Change ” (PTO /SB /124), requesting a change in the correspondence address associated with Customer No. 30245; (2) a “Change of Correspondence

⁵ MPEP 711.03(c)(III)(C)(2)

⁶ See Haines v. Quigg, 673 F. Supp. 314, 317, 5 USPQ2d 1130, 1132 (N.D. Ind. 1987); Vincent v. Mossinghoff, 230 USPQ 621, 624 (D.D.C. 1985); Smith v. Diamond, 209 USPQ 1091 (D.D.C. 1981); Potter v. Dann, 201 USPQ 574 (D.D.C. 1978); Ex parte Murray, 1891 Dec. Comm’r Pat. 130, 131 (1891).

Address, Application ” (PTO /SB /122), changing the correspondence address of this application to the address associated with Customer No. 30245; or (3) a request submitted electronically via a computer-readable diskette to change the correspondence address of this application to the address associated with Customer No. 30245, to demonstrate that applicant changed the correspondence address associated with Customer No. 30245 to PO Box 160370, Austin TX 78716-0370, prior to the mailing of the Notice of Allowance.

On renewed petition, the practitioner asserted that the “[a]ttorney shows by preponderance of the above evidence that the Customer Number address for 30245 was updated prior to the Notice of Allowance for the file at issue was mailed.” Renewed Petition, p. 2. However, neither applicant nor the practitioner submitted any documentary evidence with the renewed petition, as requested in the decision of May 21, 2007, to support this assertion. Accordingly, applicant has failed to demonstrate that the delay in paying the issue fee was unavoidable due to non-receipt of the Notice of Allowance.

Thus, the renewed petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a) is dismissed. The Office acknowledges receipt of the issue fee payment.

If applicant cannot supply the evidence necessary to establish unavoidable delay, applicant may file a petition under 37 CFR 1.137(b). The provisions of 37 CFR 1.137(b) provide that where the delay in reply was unintentional, a petition may be filed to revive an abandoned application. A grantable petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(b) must be accompanied by:

- (1) The reply required to the outstanding Office action or notice, unless previously filed;
- (2) The petition fee as set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(m); and,
- (3) A statement that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition was unintentional. The Director may require additional information where there is a question whether the delay was unintentional.
